Dear Athol-Royalston Middle School Families,

As many of you are aware, there was a complaint brought to the attention of the district. The Athol-Royalston School District follows Title IX of the United States Code, where those requirements exist, and takes all allegations seriously. We are following the Title IX process, which has not concluded at this point. However, I want to inform parents of Athol-Royalston students that your children are safe at school. If you would like to know more about the Title IX complaint process please refer to page 47 of the district's handbook for these details. The district handbook is posted on the district site under students.

Feel free to let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Darcy Fernandes

Superintendent of Schools

Athol-Royalston Regional School District
