

Watch the Brainpop video, States of Matter, all the way through. Then watch it a second time. Imagine you're the teacher creating questions for students to answer about the video.

-Write 7 questions that students could answer based on the video. The questions you create can be True/False, Fill in the blank, multiple choice, and open response. It is your choice what style of question to use.

-Provide the answers you would consider correct.